“ I have so many memories of my beautiful Aunt Barbara. She is the reason that I'm addicted to Days of Our Lives. When we were younger she wasn't far away for a while we all lived right next door to each other and we were all inseparable.

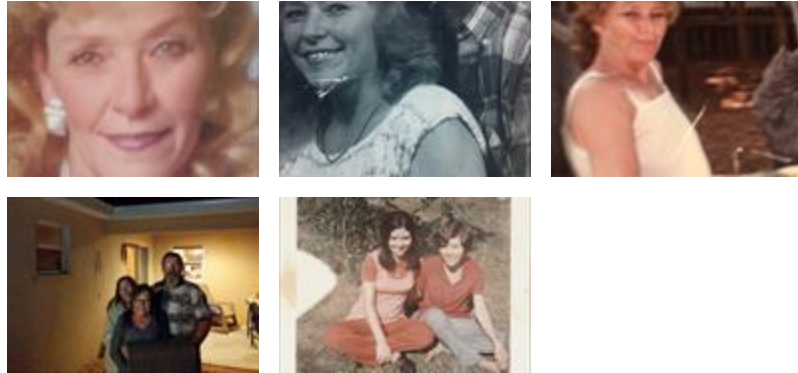

I remember the movie nights at our house when we're younger the one that sticks out the most is when Aunt Barbara and Momma decided us kids could watch Friday the 13th with them and Uncle James and Daddy had went to the store when they returned they went to the side of trailer where our backs were facing the windows and we had no clue they were out there. We were sitting on the couch and just as Jason was about to kill someone they hit the window and we all about pee'd our pants. Lol! Aunt Barbara and Momma were so mad and of course Uncle James and Daddy couldn't stop laughing. Then there was the time we went to the Silver Moon drive In in Lakeland to see The Blue Lagoon. I remember how people were commenting that we were too young to see that movie. Really it wasn't bad at all especially compared to the smuck that's on regular T.V. today.

We had so many fun times growing up thanks for all the memories Aunt Barbara. Im so happy that I got to see you one last time (I just wish the circumstances for your visit wasn't due to momma passing) before our Good Lord called you home. This is not good bye. It's until we meet again. I know you are now at peace and along with Momma, Grandma, & Grandpa you will be keep a close eye on all of us from the holes in the floor of Heaven. R.I.P. my beautiful Aunt until we meet again. Love ya “ *God saw her getting tired, a cure was not to be.

He wrapped her in his loving arms and whispered ‘Come with me.’
She suffered much in silence, her spirit did not bend.
She faced her pain with courage, until the very end.
She tried so hard to stay with us but her fight was not in vain,
God took her to His loving home and freed her from the pain.
I love you Mom.*
