“ Hello again, I would also like to add, my Father (who passed Thanksgiving Eve 11/22/2017 he was 89 to be 90 On 2/12/born1928 w/ hospice at his home (my last ROCK) would always donate to St. Judes Childrens also & I have continued to also do that in honor of him & also for all the stray animals as I'm a local supporter of volunteering at my local SPCA on Baldwin Ave. 24012 same street I live on & take in strays, fosters, supporter of Greater Goods (Animal Rescue Site, Breast Cancer Site, etc.. which also has veterans site, so many with each order you place it help feed so many animals & homeless veterans & help with the care they need. Also contribute to the Nature Conservancy. I believe in God, standing up for yourself. I live alone w/ my cats. don't ask for help. I'm on disability, mow my own big yard, etc.

My faith in God, & knowing my Mother (who passed suddenly 7/26/1996 at the young age of 58) and my Father and my Husband are still here with me keeping me going keeping me strong but I REALLY REALLY have my breakdowns. AND yes, I've dated a few but no.. no one out there for me. I deserve to be happy with someone & Kenny would want me to & I would want him to. I want a least similar to what we had as Kenny Chesney sings his song "" Knowing You "" (I stop right i my tracks especially if I'm at home & grab one of Ken's pictures & cry, sing to him, hold him against my heart.) Luke Bryans ""Drink a beer "" gets to me also as Kenny loved to fish & we did together, we went to the lake a lot.) AM I DEPRESSED ??

I barely watch TV. I listen to music, I love to stay outside, I love to drive, work in the yard, work I clean the garage up. I talk to strangers more than I do my friends.. they just kinda drift away in their own lives so I stay to myself a lot. Don't know what I would do without my cats. My sister lives in FL. Have 2 brothers live here. They work all the time. No one calls anymore...everyone has to text. I like to hear a voice. Just like my Daddy. We always called eachother after our favorite shows or after mowing.. we were SO CLOSE.

He broke down, felt so sorry for me when I lost my best friend, he wasn't his son in law as he wrote in his legacy book he bought me..

he was his SON who helped on holidays when everyone else was out having fun.. we helped eachother, that's what family is all about. I look around this house sometimes at all my pictures on the walls etc. Some I've taken dwn or moved. One day, I was looking & thought..... "all the pictures I have of all these people I love are no longer here anymore" It was relly sad.

Okay I thin I need a ong bath & a shower. I'm very sorry thi ws so, so long.

I would very, very much love to be able to have contact with Mr Owen but his choice.

May God continue to keep his loving arms wrapped around all of you.

Kenny & I have Loved Alabama since early mid 80s & I was just praying my fav songs would be sung especially 'The closer you get' . so many others we'd sing along together. I WAS SO trying to find a way to get Randys autograph . It would've mde my YEAR! Even when I first heard they were coming here I offered to but someones ticket then my bestie's hubby bought hers so I went straight to the Berglund Ctr & bought 2 on the 5 row on the floor in the center just as I wanted. I was on CLOUD NINE ! Now I will patiently wait until December 9th. It cannot get here soon enough ~~~~~

God Bless You All.

(Kenny & I at one of our Labor Day cook outs here many years ago when we always had horseshoe tournaments too. What fun. Best days of my life)

“ Here to extend my deepest symathy to Randy & the family as I'm a very long time fan of Alabama.. I was to see them here In Roanoke, VA. 6/3 & heard on radio what happened.. I was devastated for his loss as I knew how close they were & I'm a member in the FB group Randy Owen Forever where we share & we've prayed SO much, I've shared so many tears, lit candles as she's gained her wings to fly with the Angels to Rest in Paradise in that Great Big Beautiful place up where my Husband is also who was with me the last time I saw Alabama in concert here in Roanoke, VA. God Bless all of you. ((My sweet husband Kenny Myers attached when it was pouring down as we were headed towards his Z28 camaro leaving the concert.)) He passed suddenly 05/27/2007

“ I met Ms Martha some years back. A group of Shamblin's got together and visited places our parents, grand, great grand, etc., grew up.

She is one of the nicest people I have ever met. She talked to us about her personal knowledge and what she had learned from others. If I remember correctly, she & husband had bought the land she still lived on from my great grandfather in 1952. That he had built the barn she still used and it only ever had one leak which was due to her shooting at a coon trying to get her chickens. Said she had to fess up to having put that hole in it.

She kept us laughing. Told us how great grandfather also built that was in front. Showed a big pecan tree, said it put out plenty of pecans when they bought the place and still put out plenty. She referred to herself as just a country girl.

My wife told me of her passing, saw something on the internet. She told me "The one you liked so much passed away". She was the kind of person just talking, thinking about, made you feel good, want to smile.

While I grew up in Louisiana, I have two sisters and some cousins who grew up in that general area so would see, sometimes stop to chat with her. Maybe she was cutting her grass.

Maybe the earth is a little bit sadder these days, but I'm sure Heaven is a little happier.

“ I am sorry to hear of your loss but Heaven's gain! What a wonderful legacy she left. You don't know me but my Mom said we're related. My grandfather was Merida Andrew Black and Mom said we're cousins. Another cousin. Just what you need right? 😊❤️

“ " The very first time I visited Ms. Martha was in June, 2009. I was taken aback by her poise and her preserved sense of Independence. She was steadfast in her religious beliefs and was not at all ASHAMED to share it with those who wanted to hear it. On several occasions she and I prayed together during the personal, painful events of my own Mother's illness and passing several years ago.

My own favorite memories of Ms. Martha are just those.... favorite memories of talking to her on her side porch. Eating her "cathead biscuits", homemade jams and select candies. Every year during my visits I would bring her custom-made desserts from Louisville's finest bakeries, her response would always be " Oh thank you kindly, Son".

There will never be another Ms. Martha, and if anybody ever TRIED to imitate this fine Lady they would fail miserably.

Rest in Peace Ms. Martha. Receive your reward in grace and style. You will be sorely, sorely missed."
