“ Mom, I can't believe that it's been almost 2 years now since I last talked to my best friend. Sometimes, it still doesn't feel real because imagining life without you seems impossible. You always told me that life is too short to take anything for granted. I now understand the importance of taking everyday as an opportunity to reflect on the things and the people who make your life worth living because you never truly know when those things you depend on for your happiness who give you a reason to smile everyday will become the memories that you will forever cherish as the best parts of your life. I would give anything just to see that smile one more time and talk to the one person who could always make even the worst days seem so insignificant in comparison to all the things I have to be thankful for. I know you're in a much better place than any of us could even imagine. I know that one day I will be with you again laughing and smiling and that this pain and sadness is only temporary. I'm sorry that I never could fully comprehend or appreciate the sacrifices that you made to show Lauren and I a love that was beyond selfless. I realize that now every time I hold your beautiful grandson Colton Lee and look above to imagine the perfect smile you must have lighting up such a beautiful place. I never would've thought that I could walk this journey without you because even on the hardest days it was always your strength that pushed me to keep moving forward. I can never thank you enough for the countless lessons you taught me that have helped me to better understand life. Every memory I have of you will forever stay in my heart, and I can't wait to share those moments with Colton and help him understand why I never gave up and why I will keep fighting to better myself everyday. Thank you for loving me unconditionally and for setting an example that I could work my whole life to achieve and still have miles to go. Thank you for leaving me with a dad who I can count on for anything and for giving me a little sis who will be by my side every step of the way through this journey we call life. I promise to make you proud in every way that I can because I couldn't have been more proud to call you my mom. I promise to raise your grandson to be a great man. I will teach him the importance of thanking our Father above for every moment we have and to cherish those memories above all else. I will teach him to learn and grow stronger from the hard times and to never give up or question God's plan. You never stopped fighting and even through the sickness and the pain you never asked "why me". The last picture I took of you in the hospital makes it hard to believe that you were even sick because that smile only shined brighter each and every day. I love you more than you will ever know. Rest peacefully my beautiful angel and never stop smiling. This isn't goodbye. It's just me saying what I wish I would've said to you sooner. Your memory and your impact will stay always stay alive in my heart, until we meet again.

“ Honey I'm so sorry that it took me 447 days to get the courage to write my last words to you. As I set in my bed typing and listening to the song (Smiling) by Harry Greyson-Williams the tears just keep flowing. And yes, while I do miss your love, your voice, your kisses, and that big smile, I realize that I will hold you in my arms again. Oh! by the way I know it took me almost a year, but I did find that last love note you left for me to find in my carryon bag while I was on my way to my mother's funeral. The words you wrote about my mom were so warm and sincere. Mona as we both knew Madi took your passing the hardest and made some bad choices but with everyone's prayers and God's plan she turned her life around, and Lauren and I are so proud of her. Honey Madi gave birth to a beautiful little boy and yes, we are now Grandparents. She named him Colton Lee McMahan and gave him my middle name. The Father is not in the picture but in this case it's for the best. You should see her Hun, Madi is going to be a great Mother. Lauren went back to KSU for her degree in business, she wants to open her own practice. Listen baby, don't worry about me I have God walking by my side with each step and when I feel weak, he carries me through. My love, I'm closing now and yes while this will be the last words that I will ever type to you our memories will last forever. Thank you for 32 wonderful years and helping me become the man I am today. I always have, and always will love you.

Your Friend, Husband, and Lover;

Danny

“ My best friend for 40 years. We met right after beauty school and were great friends after that. When she told me at our weekly lunch date she was moving to Atlanta i cried so much the manager came to see if everything was ok. I was so lucky to then have there wedding at my house. It was so wonderful to see two awesome people joined together and so much in love. After that I was blessed to become a Godmother to Madison. Then beautiful Lauren came into our lives. Two fantastic girls that I will love forever. I really can't imagine not seeing Mona's beautiful smile and not talking to her several times a week. She was the sister I never had and Danny is like my brother. I will miss her everyday of the rest of my life.... I was so blessed to have her for all these years,

“ My fondest memory of Mona would have to be her big, warm, beautiful smile. Mona loved life and loved sharing it with my brother and their 2 precious daughters. Mona shared her very positive, loving, and compassionate spirit with all who had the privilege of crossing her path. She was truly like a sister to me; and I am going to miss her terribly. To my sweet brother Danny and our nieces Madi and Lauren: the 3 of you were the center of her life. Bobby and I are so very sorry for your loss. To Terri, Rodney, and your families, I am so sorry for your loss as well. May God cover you all with His awesome peace and carry you forward, one day at a time.

“ Aunt Mona was a ray of light. She had a million dollar smile and always made you feel at ease when you spoke with her. Her love for her family and friends was undeniable. I know she was loved by so many and she will be missed immensely. I know she is happy to be reunited with her mom, her dad, and our uncle Greg and will be waiting with open arms for all of us when we get home. ❤️

“ Mona was someone everyone looked up too. She was soft spoken, incredibly bright and always had the most beautiful smile. Life without her will be a huge adjustment. She loved her family and friends deeply. 50 years of friendship just wasn't enough. Oh, how I will cherish all of our incredible times together. Matching cars in High School (Mine Red and yours Green), racing our cars late at night (lucky to have survived) Dianna Ross Concert, Having a blowout while singing as loud as we could to Me and Bobby McGee (another death defying event) Horseback riding in Mississippi, our Vegas trips and so much more. .Some memories I will keep to myself but you know them all. Getting our cancer diagnoses months apart and supporting each other all the way through. I've thought about calling you so may times and remember that's not possible. (old habits are hard to break). So thankful you made sure Terri and I were connected. Terri sounds just like you and I just love her. You were the best friend a girl could ever ask for. I Love and Miss you so much. Till we meet again. Give Greg and Mom a big kiss and hug!
